

Lake Washington School District Budget Blog Comment and Use Policy

This blog is intended to encourage conversation, comments and questions around budget and school funding issues. We welcome your comments related to information you read here, school funding issues or Lake Washington School District budget questions, concerns or comments.

All comments will be reviewed prior to posting to ensure they comply with this policy. While comments are encouraged anytime, they will be reviewed during business hours. Review will take place generally within two business days.

We do not discriminate against any views but we will not post comments that do not comply with this policy:

- Blog public comments should be limited to comments related to the posted topic or school funding issues. Off-topic comments will not be posted.
- Comments that include vulgar, offensive, threatening or harassing language, personal attacks or unsupported accusations are prohibited.
- Posting political comments that endorse or oppose political candidates or ballot propositions is prohibited under state law because this blog uses school district property.
- The blog is not open to the promotion or advertisement of services or products. We may remove links to commercial Web sites.
- A posted comment is the opinion of the poster only. Publication of the comment does not constitute endorsement or agreement by the author of the blog entry or Lake Washington School District.
- In order to comply with Children's Online Privacy Protection Act, we are unable to post comments from children under 13. By posting here, you acknowledge that you are at least 13 years old. If you are 12 years old or younger, you may e-mail us instead.
- Communications through the blog's e-mail and messaging system will not constitute a legal or official notice. For example, a comment that asks for public records will not be considered a public records request.
- We reserve the right to limit the number of comments on a specific topic.
- For general questions or comments regarding Lake Washington School District schools, programs or other issues, please contact the appropriate department. An administrative directory is available by clicking here.
- This policy may be revised at any time.

This blog use policy is subject to amendment or modification at any time to ensure its continued use is consistent with its intended purpose as a limited forum.
