Dear Parents,

This year I am working with students to learn strategies for locating information in our library. We have literally thousands of books for children to check out as well as the data bases provided by the school district.

Here is the list of home access information for these data bases. Students will be working with them at school, but everyone can access them at home as well.

As always, working with your children is incredibly rewarding and I feel lucky to call this my "job"

Sincerely, Anne Sandbo
