

August 3, 2009

Dear Parents and Students of the Class of 2012:

I am pleased to be among the first to welcome you to Redmond High School! No matter how old I get to be, I can still strongly relate to some of the emotions you may be experiencing. I promise you that whatever nerves or fear you may have about this significant change in your life will quickly evaporate as you see that our campus is safe, our students and staff friendly, and our school a strong community dedicated to excellence in all aspects of student life.

Since we believe strongly in the importance of a good transition to high school, only Sophomores will be attending classes on the first day of school, Tuesday, September 1, 2009. On that day, you will have an opportunity to attend your classes in an abbreviated schedule, to meet your teachers, review the handbook, tour the school, and attend an activities fair intended to encourage your full involvement in the life of the high school. We think this will be a much better way for you to feel "one of us" by the time everyone reports on Wednesday, September 2. On that first day, the cafeteria will be open for lunch so you may buy your lunch or bring a sack lunch if you prefer; dessert will be provided courtesy of the ASB.

You will be receiving a mailing that contains important information concerning ASB cards, yearbooks, pictures, schedules, textbooks and dates pertinent to the week before school starts.

I am looking forward to meeting you and to working with you for the next three years. If you have any questions between now and September 1, please do not hesitate to contact me by e-mail at jtodd@lwsd.org or by phone at 425-498-7130.

Sincerely,

Jane Todd
Principal
