Located in Kirkland, Carl Sandburg Elementary School is a neighborhood school with an enrollment of 500 students in grades kindergarten through six. Students, parents, and staff at Carl Sandburg are committed to academic excellence, hard work, and respecting each other and their environment. In addition to the Sandburg programs, Sandburg hosts Discovery Community School as well as the Quest Pull-Out Enrichment program three days each week and the District Developmental Preschool.

Carl Sandburg students practice the Sandburg Way: Be Safe, Be Kind, Be Respectful, and Work Hard! All students work hard to become collaborative workers, quality producers, self-directed learners and community contributors. Every member of the Sandburg staff is committed to creating meaningful learning experiences and maintaining an environment of collaboration, connection, support and academic rigor to ensure the success of each of our students.

Sandburg has a very active and involved PTSA that provides significant support to our school in many ways. Our generous parents support the Carl Sandburg community with over 35 enrichment activities including, math, science, the arts, chess, sports and leadership, as well as tutoring services and homework support. These extracurricular activities and events enhance the experience and education of every student.

Year in Review – 2010-2011

Continuous Improvement Plan

Carl Sandburg Elementary School's Continuous Improvement Process guides our staff with concrete goals and objectives in the areas of reading, writing, mathematics and science. Teachers and staff worked to align the school's mission and goals with what happens in the classroom and worked to ensure that we have a balanced curriculum from first through sixth grade.

We used our Wednesday Early Release time to work as a staff, with other schools in the Juanita Learning Community, and as a school district. Teachers had many discussions about student progress, assessment practices, and setting concrete and measurable goals for student improvement. Teachers worked to create assessments to analyze student progress and to develop lessons and programs to meet student needs. Staff members also participated in a survey that measures how our school is perceived in areas that are typical of an effective school. We used the resulting data to focus on school climate, assessment, and community involvement.

Our students' performance on the MSP remained above the state average in all areas. While there is always hard work to do, we are proud of the efforts of staff, parents and the community to improve student achievement.

No Child Left Behind Report

The "No Child Left Behind" Act of 2001 (NCLB) outlines requirements that K-12 schools must meet. LWSD met the standard for Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) in 50 of 59 subgroups under NCLB. In most of the 50 areas, students scored significantly above the requirements. The areas of concern for the district include special education, Hispanic students and low-income students. No school district in the state of Washington with over 10,000 students made AYP, including this district. This school did make AYP for this year. NCLB requires all public schools and school districts to publish "report cards" that contain specific information highlighting their schools' progress, including the results of the Measurements of Student Progress (MSP). Visit <http://reportcard.ospi.k12.wa.us> to view this data plus the MSP scores broken out by eight subgroups.

Capital Projects Levy Activities

Facilities: No facilities capital projects.

Technology: Computer allocations were maintained at the district standard. New equipment continued to replace old on a standardized basis. Interactive whiteboards and projection systems have been installed in every classroom. Training continued on integrating technology into subject areas and using technology to increase student engagement. Software enhancements, network upgrades and new technologies to support student learning were available.

Use of Maintenance and Operations Levy

Assist schools in helping all students reach academic standards; offer ongoing teacher training; purchase textbooks and classroom materials; provide additional staff for instruction and supervision; and support extra-curricular athletics and activities.
